1. A meeting was held on 17 March 1953 at the home of Nicholas Manangis attended by Manangis, Panagiotis Petsalis, Nicholas Theodoropoulos, Sourelis (fnu), (all members of Andreas Zakas' leftist movement), Christos Klousis, a section chief in the Ministry of Reconstruction, Papapanagiotou (fnu), a doctor on Tsimiski Street, and a certain Mousogiannis. Petsalis told those present that they constituted the Administrative Board of the Association for the Protection of the Unemployed. They read and signed the constitution of the Association, which was also signed by others (unidentified), and which was to be submitted to the Court of First Instance for approval during the week of 17 March 1953.
2. Manangis then showed them a book containing 12,000 names of unemployed persons, mainly from refugee camps, whom they will try to recruit as the backbone of their organization. Manangis stated that they would work hard to attract members, but would try to avoid giving the movement a political hue in order to escape government intervention.
